

It is my option to not receive calls from businesses promoting themselves. I pay for my phone to use as I desire. Not for those who want to sell their products or promotions. If I desire to purchase an item, I will do so without a sells pitch on my home phone. I work 18 hrs a day and do not appreciate being bothered by sell calls. Maybe we should come up with a law to charge these companies for their calls to our homes, which are interffering with our private time at home. I'll check into a 900 number. They can pay me for my time and phone bill.
